Group Leader Training (Only in Norwegian) (Reserved for leaders/deputies)

Fredrik Vaaheim and Sarah Afeef, Redd Barna

Do you want to learn more about the role of a group leader or deputy leader? Then this course is for you! We will go through the group leader role, tips and tricks for volunteer management, how Save the Children is organized, your group's role in the bigger picture, and share experiences with each other.

Inspiration for Play: Workshop

Camilla Haug and Julia Wong, Redd Barna

Do you need tips and inspiration for games and activities you can do with children, regardless of language? Then this workshop is for you! We will have a fun and playful workshop where we test various low-threshold activities, both with and without equipment.

Violence and Sexual Abuse: Lecture

(Only in Norwegian)

Vanja U. Haug, Public Health Nurse at Lakkegata School in Oslo

In this lecture, you will gain more knowledge about violence and sexual abuse against children. How many are affected, what forms of violence do children experience, what reactions can it cause, and what can we as adults do when we become concerned? We will learn all this and more when and Vanja Haug shares her experiences observations as a primary school nurse.

Cultural Sensitivity in Interaction with Children and Youth: Lecture

Sara Aziz, Atlas Kompetanse

In this lecture, you will gain more knowledge about why cultural understanding and cultural sensitivity are important when interacting with children and families who have fled to Norway. You will also learn more about communication when there is no common language.

11.00-12:00

Children Fleeing Alone to Norway: Lecture

Camilla Engeseth Scharffscher, Redd Barna

How are children who flee alone to Norway received, and what are the main challenges? Save the Children's advocacy work to create change.

Conflict Management: Workshop

(Only in Norwegian)

Emily Hoff and Tone Rasmussen, Redd Barna

Are you conflict-averse or struggling with handling conflict? Do you want to learn more about how you can manage and prevent conflicts in activities with children and youth, in the activity group, and in everyday life? Then this workshop is for you. We will facilitate a playful workshop where we will focus on tools for managing and preventing conflict and improving communication.

Help! How Do I Involve Children in Decision-Making?: Workshop

(Only in Norwegian)

Frederick Reiersen and Grete Vandvik, Redd Barna

In this workshop, you will receive practical advice and tips for safe, relevant, inclusive, and fun participation of children in volunteer activities. You will learn how to use different methods, share your experiences, and be inspired by others' experiences.

Child Poverty – How Can We Together Create Change for Children Locally: Workshop

(Only in Norwegian)

Ane Aamot and Helle Aasen, Redd Barna

Children say that being poor in Norway is embarrassing and shameful, and they pretend they don't want to play football or attend birthdays because their families don't have money. Are you concerned about how children and youth in your local community are losing the opportunity to have their rights fulfilled and their dreams realized because their families are financially struggling? Join us for a creative workshop where we will explore how we can work locally to increase awareness of child poverty, create engagement, and change policies.
